

HITLER – 1

Hitler's Beer Hall Putsch (coup) took place in 1923, that is, a century ago, and we are still talking about him because he is still influential.

Hitler's 1923 Putsch put him in jail and became the turning point in his life where he decided to go all out for power in order to exact the revenge he wanted from England and France.

And the question remains: Why are so many of us still concerned or intrigued or fascinated by him?

In order to understand him, we need to understand a bit of the political conditions that brought him to power and especially the cultural environment that created those political conditions.

And that brings us to the two survival cultures that run our world.
